

We strongly oppose any change that would weaken Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law. If anything, the FCC might consider using it as a model. It has improved our quality of life immeasurably.